

Wye oh Wye oh Wye?

So what has Wye got to offer?

A great sense of community for one, with an active church, sought after kindergarten and 'Ofsted-rated' primary schools, an excellent butcher, well-stocked Co-operative store, newsagent, chemist, doctors', dentist and veterinary surgeries, a renowned restaurant with accommodation, two pubs and Indian and Chinese restaurants. In addition, once a month, there's a Farmers' Market on the village green – what more could a village need?

Well, there's a new Free School just opened in the former Agricultural College grounds with year 7 starting this year to be followed by years 8-11 in successive years.

Travel facilities are brilliant– drive for 10 minutes and you can reach either junctions 9 or 10 of the M20 with fast links to the M25, London or the Channel Ports.

Alternatively, catch the train at the village station and within a few minutes you can be in either the Cathedral city of Canterbury, with all the heritage it has to offer, or alternatively pick up the fast train to London and be in St Pancras 38 minutes later. Also, why not catch the Eurostar and have lunch in Paris – it can be done!

Wye, set against a backdrop of the North Downs and within an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty has every type of property going, from bijou terraced cottages full of character such as in Bridge, Scotton and Church Streets, to the more modern family houses of Oxenturn Road, Chequers Park and Havillands.

In the surrounding countryside there are numerous farmhouses, cottages and rural retreats, many with great views of the neighbouring countryside.

Foxwood Maclean always has a selection of these to buy or rent, having been part of the village business community for over 20 years.

From first time buyers to those retiring, the advantage of having nearly everything on your doorstep makes living in Wye hard to beat.
